Due to the employee's death, workers' compensation wage-loss benefits were discontinued on _____ (date).

1. Was the employee's death related to the work injury?     Yes     No     Unknown

If yes, the insurer must contact the heirs or dependents as soon as possible and file a First Report of Injury (related to the death) with the Workers' Compensation Division.

2. Will any permanent partial disability benefits the employee was receiving at the time of death continue to be paid to the heirs or dependents?

Yes, for how long? _____

No, why not? _____

Information for heirs and dependents regarding discontinuance

- You may make a claim for benefits by notifying the employer or the workers' compensation insurer claim representative in writing that you believe the death was related to the injury and are claiming workers' compensation benefits.
- If you have questions about the benefits paid or owed to the deceased employee, continuing permanent partial disability benefits or dependency benefits, call the insurer claim representative at the telephone number listed at the end of this form.
- If you still have questions, contact the Workers' Compensation Division office nearest you.
